

3D details in the automotive sector: DOSCH DESIGN offers a great choice of 3D models

(11th October 2012) Especially when it comes to production, documentation and illustration in the automotive sector, the perfect visualisation of the vehicle being produced showing every little detail is a must. With its comprehensive product range DOSCH DESIGN has specialised in catering for this market in particular and offers a considerable range of attractive, highly detailed 3D models.

The portfolio ranges from car details V2, helicopter details, electric car details to yacht or bus details, right down to details for bicycles or motorbikes, to name but a few, providing a basic range of 3D models to suit almost all requirements. These models can be used immediately for marketing purposes with regard to suppliers, developers, manufacturers, or may be used in publications, for animation or illustration purposes, and in documentations.

The 3D models contain all the important details such as engines, interior equipment, and movable parts such as doors or bonnets and can also be customised.

Further products are already under development. New vehicle details will follow shortly, for example a caravan, a camping mobile, a submarine, a lorry with trailer, a motorbike and many more. Take a look at our website - it's worth it. New products are announced regularly at www.doschdesign.com.
